No, Tucker, Jeffrey Epstein faked his death. And he is still alive.

Stop gaslighting us about everything.

Tucker Carlson is the fraud that keeps on giving. Anything this bozo is touching is a guaranteed hoax. It is very easy by now to see this. He is back at it again and this time with the Jeffrey Epstein hoax.

Tucker came out on the second of January this year¹ claiming that the brother of Jeffrey Epstein, Mark Epstein, had trouble accessing records on the death of his brother. So, if you step back, what is the big assumption here? That's right, that Jeffrey Epstein is dead. It doesn't matter what the angle is that they take for the story, it is always the unsaid assumptions that you have to watch.

Of course this story is complete bullshit and Mark Epstein is controlling the opposition. He paints you a picture that he is being obstructed to find out the truth. Mark insinuates that poor Jeffrey was murdered by the government for exposing lots of high profile people that were allegedly involved in Epstein's prostitution ring with adults and minors. That is all distraction.

Let me break it to you: Epstein faked his death. That is also confirmed here^{2,3,4}. He is still alive and laughing his deceptive ass off on some remote island sipping cocktails. His brother is now furthering the hoax, in unison with Carlson.

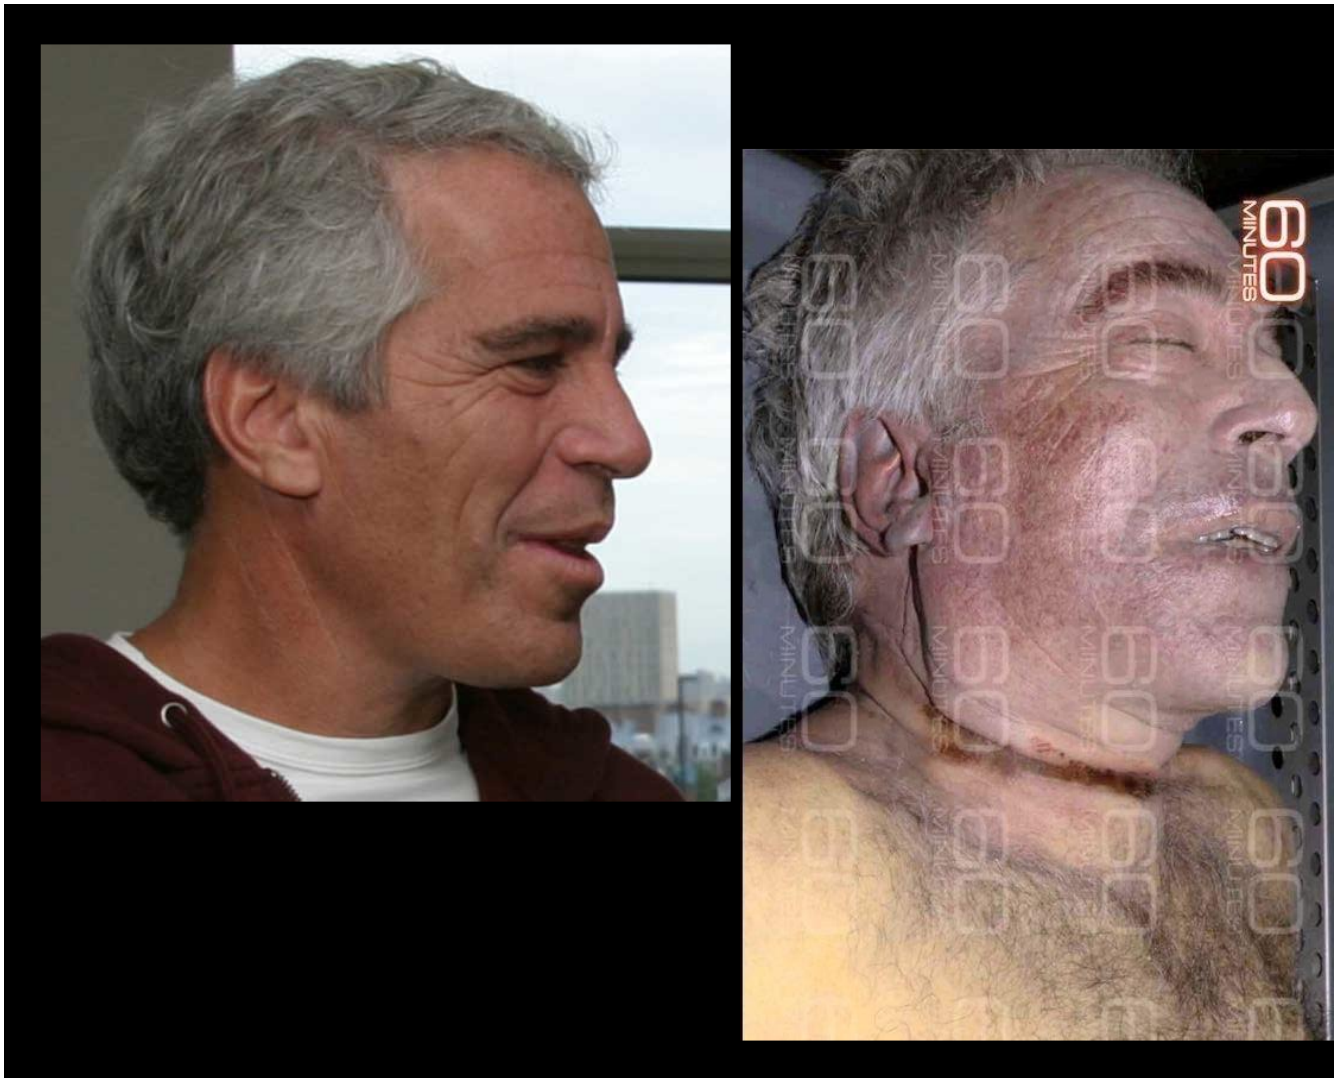

If that wasn't enough, another story⁵ hit today in which Carlson claims that the marks on Epstein's neck are not from hanging, but from strangulation. Did you catch that assumption? Again, that Jeffrey is dead. What Tucker is gaslighting you about is that Jeffrey didn't kill himself, which we already know, but that he was murdered. The main lie stands: That Epstein is dead. Tucker is a master at gaslighting, but luckily we can see through his tricks. Here are the pics:

Do you notice anything? Yeah, that's right. Where is the head? How do we know that this is even Jeffrey Epstein? Why don't they show the head? I will tell you why. Because that is not Jeffrey Epstein. It is probably a corpse from the morgue, or its an actor that has been dolled up for the pics. That is why they do not show you his head. If we go back in time we got a 'shot' from Jeffrey Epstein after his 'death'.

Do you notice anything? Watch the ear and compare the pictures. The ears do not match. Neither do the noses. Have a look at this one:

Same thing. The ears do not match. So the guy that is lying 'dead' on a stretcher there is not Jeffrey Epstein. It is a double who is playing dead. That is because Jeffrey is sipping cocktails on some remote island and watching the news laughing.

Both stories are featured on CIA front operation Zerohedge, which is owned by ABC, so we already know that we are being fleeced once again.
