European societal collapse

Part 2

Private opinion with conclusions derived from own research

ZeroHedge is hitting us again with more articles that do well to enrage the local populations of Europe, which are dealing with the disappearance of their culture due to the invasion of foreign hordes. But these articles still send you into the bush on the cause of it.

Of course, the Jewish agents that orchestrate the Kalergi plan for most European countries, have sent one of their controlled opposition agents to propaganda platform X, deputy head of the German police union, Manuel Ostermann¹, to warn us that gangs of thugs with an immigration background are dominating certain parts of cities in Germany.

He claims:

Arab clans dominate the big cities. Gangs fight each other in the fight for sovereignty in organized crime. People who don't belong to the "right side" are murdered on the street. Even the police hardly dare to go to certain areas known as no-go areas anymore. Drug deaths hit an all-time high. In some districts, only Sharia law is recognized as valid law. Women are only allowed to go out on the streets unless fully veiled and accompanied by a male relative. The streetscape in these cities is dominated by Arab shops and traders.

You only hear Arabic. Germans have moved to other parts of the city and no longer dare to go back. In schools, lessons can only take place bilingually. The law of the strongest prevails in the playground. Girls and women only dare to be around people with pepper spray in their pockets. Gang rapists and so-called grooming gangs wreak havoc with impunity. Muslim girls, who are still pre-adolescent, like to be married to older men. Genital mutilation is practiced quite naturally in certain circles. German folk festivals only take place sporadically.

Many cities now have Islamist mayors. There is an Islamic right-wing radical party in the Bundestag strongest force. Hundreds of male migrants still cross borders every day. Christmas lights have been abolished. Islamic festivals such as Sugar Festival have been declared a national holiday. Crosses have invariably disappeared from public life. Most churches are closed. The imams can be heard calling to prayer several times a day. The social system has almost collapsed. The pensions can no longer be paid out.

If this is true, we can confidently say that the Kalergi plan is working. Entire Societies in Europe are disrupted by this foreign virus of immigrants. These immigrants were allowed to enter Europe after the second world war under the guise of 'guest labor', but these people never returned. Rather, they kept their language, customs and refused to integrate, i.e. they refused to adapt to the host culture and make it their own.

It is important to note that if these criminal gangs exist, it is because they are allowed to exist and German intelligence funds them and secretly controls them.

If there is really sharia law in certain parts of German cities, it is because it is allowed.

If it is true that there are Islamist mayors, it is because it is allowed.

If it is true that German schools are dealing with hell, where in some cases the students do not even speak German², it is because it is allowed.

If all of this crap is true, it is because it is allowed and run by German intelligence.

Why? Because the goal is to eradicate the German culture (or whatever culture in Europe you look at) and replace it by an Islamist mixed race. The goal is to eradicate the (German) language, customs and heritage to produce an ignorant, baseless population that can be easily controlled. The goal is to reduce the indigenous population to a minority group that lives in fear in an enclave in their own but former country. They lost their country to the immigrant population.

At this time in history, there are two camps: the non-christian immigrant population and all their decedents of generations backed by the Kalergi plan and intelligence. And on the other side, the indigenous culture, that is scared, limited and demonized in their own country.

Of course riots will break out, but they will be controlled: just to create more chaos and more strife among the two groups. Just like the one in Switzerland³ where a Congolese teen died after a police raid and where riots 'broke out'.

Because with chaos of riots like that, nobody is actually targeting the real perpetrators. Like that, the groups are controlled perfectly. Like that nobody will realize the Jewish influence behind it all.

Ostermann continues to say that it will all go to shits if we don't get a policy change:

If ... yes, if we don't get a 180-degree turnaround in domestic politics right away.

No, this is again the obvious misdirection. Just like with the immigration policies of Farage in the UK at this moment⁴. That plan has some seemingly good points, but again does not remove the source of the problems and where it comes from: the Kalergi plan. So it will not be of any use to the UK population in the long run.

We don't need change of laws, we need to remove the Jewish power behind the German government, by taking over the central bank of Germany, by taking over the legal system, by leaving the euro and stop all policies that is damaging the German culture.

You would say, what about kicking out the immigrants? Yeah for sure, but many of them have a German passport. The best way is to educate the indigenous and the immigrant population who the real enemy is and to show them that both groups have been used for decades to advance the Kalergi agenda. Both groups have been disadvantaged, traumatized and morally corrupted. Both groups have been made to hate each other. Both groups have been used as slaves and pawns in this Kalergi game. It is best to work together in the place where they reside. Emigration should be a natural choice, but that can only happen when the Kalergi agenda stops.

Uniting these two groups against the common Kalergi plan enemy is a way to stop this agenda and let both groups heal from their cultural trauma: On the one hand, the immigrant population has been taken from their own country and culture and put in this strange country in Europe. That is a trauma in itself. And on the other hand, the indigenous population has seen its culture, customs, language and way of life erode the past decades. That is also a trauma.

The key is stepping out of the ignorance and abuse and do something about this situation if the people care about their and their children's future.

Added: September 5, 2025:

ZeroHedge is spamming their readers with yet another academic drivel article⁵ about the European situation. Although the article correctly stipulates that the current UK predicament is planned and intentional, it fails to point the finger at the correct cause of it all. As usual, we get the political stooges who get the blame. This time, it is the Labor Party under Tony Blair as the instigators of all the chaos that we see now.

The politicians get the blame...again. The classic diversion and gaslighting of what is really going on.

And of course, the politicians are to blame (for a small part), but they are just moronic puppets, acting and posing as the fall guy, when things go tits up. They do not decide anything in these matters. Rather, they get the tap on the shoulder from their handlers and their handler's handlers when the real agenda has to be executed. And they listen and do it, as the cowardly prostitutes they are.

I have said it before and I am saying it again: The real plan has always been the Kalergi plan, which comes straight out of Jewish mysticism, which is also known as Kabbalah. Nothing else than Kabbalah and Kalergi is the source of Europe's demise.
