I am posting this article on the remembrance day that America saw one of its biggest hoaxes in its existence, 9/11. It is a fitting day, as Charlie Kirk 100% faked his death and hoaxed the world with his staged assassination. There is hard evidence that this whole event was scripted, with the biggest red flag: the gunshot video.

Have a look at the following 2,5 minute video of his alleged assassination, and be your own judge. Use a vpn if Bitchute is blocked in your country. Here it is:

It is quite self-explanatory, but just for the sake of completion, a few points:

- The blood: The biggest red flag is that his shirt does not get red. In other words the blood is not soaked up: Clear computer generated manipulation. It is clear that the blood has been added later through computer editing. The video material comes - most likely - from planted agents, who were there to get the right angles for the footage.
- The flow of the blood makes no sense as it goes up and vanishes at the same time.

- His neck: from slow motion images (check out this video: <https://www.bitchute.com/video/wKhEyRD9Zywa>), we can see that the wound appears from a small dot and gets larger. That is not how a bullet wound looks like. It should be an instant hole, and even be bigger than that. You could also say that his whole neck should have been ripped apart.
- His shirt: From this angle in this video you can clearly see that he has something under his shirt.
(<https://www.bitchute.com/video/KC1FY2V3lBqq>)
It is something that is triggered remotely. It is not a sack of blood, rather a device that gives a small shock, in order that the subject can act out a shock reaction. So when Kirk felt that device under his shirt, he knew to play a 'shot-victim'. Kirk is a very good actor. The device is also perfectly choreographed with the gunshot sound. It happens at the same time. In the video you can clearly see a device moving beneath his shirt. Even if you do not believe that the blood is CGI, this video explains how they can also do it with devices under clothing: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Jn-fhzNM33E>
- His hand. Go back to the first video (<https://www.bitchute.com/video/lj5fefsmEoDz>). At around the 1min15sec mark you see that something is falling off his hand in which he holds the microphone. Looks like a piece of something. Could also be the button Kirk used to signal that he was ready for the hoax.

It is clear Kirk practiced this hoax, because his 'playing the shot victim' is very convincing. But the CGI stuff, his shirt and neck give it all away.

Why fake his death?

I can write dozens of pages on the questionable background of Kirk, the political arena, the global agenda etc etc., but the bottom line is this:

This hoax is part of operation Chaos, which the CIA is still running. Kirk is CIA. He is one of them. This hoax creates political narrative, polarization in society, democrat versus republican, left versus right, it creates trauma within the population, confusion, anger and emotional chaos. That is exactly what the controllers want: A chaotic society and a chaotic mind. People then are easily manipulated and controlled. They consume more. They obey better.

New legislation can be passed on the back of this. More money can be stolen from the taxpayers on the back of this. More power can be gained from this.

Watch the shitshow unfold with all these elements going forward. Just know that everybody selling this hoax as real, is either in on it, or is somebody who has fallen for the deception.
